CORE MEDICAL CENTER

Practice Specialty: Physical Medicine & Comprehensive Pain Management

Core Medical Center is unlike any other pain management practice because we do not limit our offerings to conventional or one-size-fits-all approaches. Instead, we work with our patients to create a personalized treatment program that brings together the most effective yet least invasive techniques and services from across multiple disciplines of care, including interventional pain procedures, physical therapy, chiropractic, Durable Medical Equipment, occupational medicine, Federal worker's compensation and state worker's compensation. We are committed to providing treatment that is non-opioid and non-addictive.

We are a family own practice with deep community roots and a legacy of healing excellence that began more than 40 years ago with the groundbreaking efforts and chiropractic expertise of Dr. Patrick Goldsworthy. His passionate belief that the right care can positively change people's lives is the foundation for the patient-centered approach and next-generation capabilities that have taken flight under the visionary leadership and guidance of his son, Dr. Aston Goldsworthy.

Today, Core Medical Center is an extension of our family and our values. We have a reputation of integrity, transparency, and superior competence in our community. We remain solidly committed to providing innovative patient care with respect, compassion, and integrity while continuously pushing ourselves and our industry forward to create new possibilities in health, healing, and lifelong wellness.
